Discuss the implications of fraud in an area that is probably very important to your students – electronic communication. Help them to recognize that law enforcement is key to managing the problem and that mathematical analysis is an important tool for upholding privacy and other laws.